Worship Focus

As we look ahead to another year together, we are aware that our congregation is facing some very sobering challenges. We will need to work together with God's help to meet these challenges. Perhaps we wish God would just remove the obstacles and solve the problems by his power, and without our effort. But even though God certainly doesn't need our help, he requires that we "help" him. We need to do it together, each of us doing our individual part. What does that look like for each of us? The Holy Spirit will have to reveal to us what our individual contribution will be. As we look at our passage this morning together, we must each listen carefully to the particular specific application the Spirit intends for each of us individually.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Advance Notice

The next discussion of "The Forgotten God" will be a 4:00 on the fourth Sunday of each month through May. In January we will discuss chapter 3 of the book. In our worship services on the 13th, 20th and 27th, in preparation for our discussion on the 27th, we will consider the Holy Spirit's role in our individual lives, and in our congregational life.

Help Needed

We have a number of members who often need transportation to church events and medical appointments. If you are available to be on a list of people who can provide transportation for those who need it (with advance notice and when you are free), please let any one of our deacons know of your availability.

Power in Prayer

All are welcome to join us on Thursday mornings at 9:00 AM for prayer time here at our church as we lift up the prayers of our church, our community, and our country. Talk to Tina Slager for more information or any prayer requests you might have.

Adult Sunday School

Starting today we will begin the next Bible book content video on the book of Judges, followed by an informal prayer time.
