MORNING WORSHIP FOCUS

One of the main points of the sermon is that we get this attitude that "If it is to be, it's up to me," and when that is combined with allowing God to disappear from our radar screen, we end up like Elijah in the desert -- defeated and frustrated and ready to throw in the towel. This is the reason God wants us to practice Sabbath -- not following all sorts of rules about what we can and cannot do on a certain day, but pulling back and out to connect with God and hear from him so that our reset button can be pushed and we are again grounded spiritually in Him.
